

Hank Haney Beginner Series

“Golf is a game that everyone can enjoy....” Hank Haney

The Program

Hank Haney says “one of the biggest challenges in the game is getting started.” Navigating through all the decisions of equipment, instruction, and expense can be discouraging. However, Hank Haney Golf has designed a Beginner Program that is inexpensive and helps you navigate through all the decisions you will need to make to really enjoy golf. All you need are tennis shoes and a good attitude! We provide the clubs and instruction for a series of lessons that will help first timers or entry back into the game after a long layoff.

The Format

In a series of five 90 minute lessons you will progress in the knowledge from what to wear, navigating the practice area and clubhouse, the swing techniques, golf etiquette on the course and most of all how to make the ball fly far in the air. The Beginner Series classes are designed for small groups learning, however, the class can also be taken individually.

Why Small Group Practice?

Simply put, you can try and/or become better at a lower cost. Part of the process is practice. In a small group setting you will learn a skill then get a chance to practice that skill while your instructor is helping others. These small group practice sessions encourage focused individual practice through drills, games and contests with consistent instructor feedback. Lastly, the most cost effective way to receive consistent coaching, encouragement, direction, inspiration, and instruction is a focused small group setting.

The Goal

The goal is to help you create the start of a great game plan so you can enjoy the game forever!
